The Visual Arts Building underwent a complete renovation during the 2018/2019 academic year. In addition to cosmetic upgrades, the renovation resolved many challenges associated with an aging building, such as indoor air quality and lighting. The 32,000 square foot facility now boasts fully updated:

- Art History classroom and library
- Digital Media suite
- Drawing and painting studios
- Gallery and presentation space
- Photography studio and darkroom
- Print making studio
- Sculpture studio, wood shop, welding and tech lab

During the renovation, the large dormer windows were replaced with skylights to bring more natural light into the third floor studios. The ground floor of Keller Hall, which was previously residential, was converted into a Digital Media suite including a classroom, editing studios, a recording studio and viewing room. The Keller Hall Reception Room on the first floor was converted into a 2,000 square foot presentation and reception space.
